Time: 3:45-5:00

- I. Call to order Welcome
- II. Review last meeting minutes
- III. Open Business

- ❖ 6th Annual Art Contest -Kim emailed the art contest flyer to all members for distribution. Kim will also send a copy to all principals. Donnelly will cover the framing costs and David Pickard has been contacted. The new theme is "Outside" using any media on a two-dimensional surface no larger than 11x 14. All entries are due January 17th, 2020.
- ❖ Representation from high school. Alison Foudy and Garrett Romero have said that they would represent MDHS. Both were invited to the meeting, but neither were present.
- ❖ Are there any updates for the resources on Creative Arts District? The committee discussed changes for the website including adding art images, thank you letters to supporters, information about scholarships and adding new email address. Members will review the content of the web page and be prepared to share/make changes at our next meeting. Kim will contact Jim Foudy and make sure there are no restriction for content.

IV. New business

- a) Heartland Home. Kim shared the letter from Cynthia Dittmer. We have still not completed our commitment to the grant from the GIG. Kim will contact Phil Schoensee. Kim and Amy plan to have an art week after school at Heartland complete with creating the art, framing the art, and having a show. It is time to make it happen.
- b) Greeting Cards: Committee members will deliver greeting cards to 44 North, The Bistro, The Barn Owl, and Mountain Java. Gallery 55 expressed interest in having greeting cards but after we had already distributed them. We hope to give them cards to sell after our next meeting on November 21st. Jared Hopkins will connect with Bianca at the district office and get the greeting card sale information on the district webpage.

- c) Debbie McCoy reached out on behalf of McCall Arts and Humanities. They are looking for more representation at their monthly meetings on the second Monday of each month. They are held at Hotel McCall in the library at 5:00 pm.
- d) Amy Granger expressed interest in creating a school art project one per school. She will reach out to Val Berg and share her ideas.
- e) Next meeting...Thursday, November 21st.
